

Emotional Gulliver makes it an incredible 9...

Eight-time World Champion Trina Gulliver made it a ninth in a case of déjà vu for women's darts, as she saw off plucky Welshman Rhian Edwards 2-0 for the second year in a row. She later dedicated the win to her ill mother, in emotional scenes on stage after the victory. Edwards took the opening leg before Trina got to work, as she then won the three legs required without response, to go 1-0 ahead. The crucial point of the match came in the third leg of the second set, as Gulliver checked out 100 to stop Edwards from breaking, and to throw for the set, and two missed darts from Edwards in the next allowed Trina in to secure triumph. "It is fantastic and a great feeling to retain the title. All the championships are special to me but I want to dedicate this 9th World Championship to my Mum who has not been well."
